SUMMONED TO MASS MEETING

Pittsburg Citizens Are Urged to Attend One.

CALLS BANK REPRESENTATIVES

Grand Jury Desires to Hear Their Testimony—One of the Institutions Announces That It Will Comply With the Request of the District Attorney for Information.

Pittsburg, March 28.—The Lenten season has been too short a season of penitence for Pittsburg and it will be continued with promise of even more startling confessions and disclosures of graft this week. In several hundred churches an unusual feature of the Easter services was the reading of a circular letter issued by a civic committee urging the members of every congregation to attend an indignation mass meeting to be held some day this week. Sermons were designed to arouse public condemnation of such practices as have been revealed and on such texts as "truth crucified will rise transfigured" lessons in civic cleanliness were drawn by many pastors.

It having been pretty thoroughly established, according to District Attorney William A. Blakeley, how at least $102,500 was used in influencing legislation, the source of the money and the dispensers of it are to be the focus of the grand jury's attention when that body resumes work after a two days' recess. A considerable portion of the bribe fund is charged to certain banks which sought to get the city deposits. They succeeded, but it is the desire of the grand jury that the bank deposit ordinance be rescinded and the banks, if found guilty, be deprived of the use of city money. It is known that representatives of the banks are to be called to testify.

The six banks which have been named by the grand jury as involved in the scandal are the Columbia National, the German National of Pittsburg, the Farmers' National Deposit bank, Second National, the German National bank of Allegheny and the Workingman's Savings and Trust company.

Only One Bank Takes Action.

The directorate of the Farmers' National has announced that it will comply with the district attorney's call for information, and the Second National has prepared a certified statement which is to be presented to the grand jury. The other banks have taken no action.

It was not learned whether Charles Stewart in his talk with the district attorney told all that he is believed to know about the men higher up. Stewart is a former select councilman who was declared by the grand jury in its presentment Saturday to have been the man to whom $45,000 of bribe tainted money was given at the Hotel Imperial in New York.

Twenty of the present members of the council are under indictment in connection with the graft cases. It is expected that some will protest their innocence, but the majority are expected to hand in resignations as meekly as they confessed last week. While the big show continues there is a lively side feature in a crusade against all varieties of graft and wrongdoing in Pittsburg. Disorderly houses are being closed up and every night lately has seen a round up of women in the tenderloin district.

At a meeting of citizens in the Fort Pitt hotel at which a committee was formed to further the mass meeting plan, it was charged that the graft collected in the red light districts amounted to $1,000,000 a year.

John F. Klein, whose confession and exposure of others has resulted in such a scandal, has been muzzled and is now kept in a room at the Fort Pitt hotel pending the disposition of his case. He is under sentence of three and a half years, but he came out in an emotional postcard appeal for clemency and aid for his family. The authorities have forbidden him to give out further public statements.

TELLS HIS STORY OF GRAFT

Important Witness Said to Have Made Confession.

Pittsburg, March 28.—Another of the councilmen, one that has been charged with being one of the ring leaders, is believed to have weakened and to have told his story of the graft conspiracy to the district attorney.

Charles Stewart, with his attorney, former Governor W. A. Stone, called on District Attorney Seymour, followed by a corps of stenographers, floored to Blakeley's office. Three hours later when they emerged, Blakeley and Seymour were smiling, but would give out no definite statement. The district attorney, however, has repeatedly announced that Stewart held the key to some of the "big ones" implicated in the graft conspiracy. If Stewart has made a clean breast of it, indictments against certain bankers are assured.

SHACKLETON GETS A MEDAL

President Taft Presents One to British Explorer.

Washington, March 28.—In the presence of President Taft and a vast audience, representative of society and science in Washington, which taxed the capacity of Convention hall, Lieutenant Sir Ernest Shackleton gave a graphic description of the vicissitudes and hardships encountered during his dash for the South pole. The lecture was under the auspices of the National Geographic society.

The appearance of the president was the signal for prolonged applause, the whole assemblage standing on his being recognized.

Lieutenant Shackleton paid high tribute to the men who accompanied him on his dash. He said if he had had fifty pounds more of solid food he would have reached the pole.

The first mention of either of the recent Arctic explorers was made by the president in a speech presenting the Hubbard medal on behalf of the National Geographic society.

Standing face to face with Lieutenant Shackleton on the higher platform the president said the medal was the evidence of the society's "high appreciation of the marvelous work you have done in the cause of science, the endurance, courage and intelligence shown in the pursuit of a definite object."

ANXIOUSLY AWAIT SPEECH

Egyptians Believe Roosevelt Will Make Important Address.

Cairo, March 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his party attended the morning Easter services at the English church, which was crowded with worshippers. Later they gave a small luncheon in Shepherd's restaurant, and afterward Colonel Roosevelt received informally a deputation of Copts and Mohammedans and leading Egyptian journalists. Colonel Roosevelt discussed religious intolerance and other nonpolitical subjects with his guests while they were served with coffee and cigarettes.

Every one is awaiting anxiously the speech of Colonel Roosevelt at the university. His discourse, it is thought, will prove an important one. The assassination last month of Boutros Pacham Ghali, premier and minister of foreign affairs, by a student is expected to be a feature of the address.

EIGHT KILLED OR WOUNDED

Gun Explodes on the United States Cruiser Charleston.

Manila, March 28.—A report has reached here that a gun on the United States cruiser Charleston exploded during target practice and that eight men were killed or wounded. The Charleston is returning to Manila from Olongapo. No details of the reported accident have been received here.

The United States cruiser Charleston is the flagship of Rear Admiral John Hubbard, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet. Her commanding officer is John H. Gibbons.

The Charleston is a protected cruiser of 9,700 tons and carries fourteen guns.

MORE MONEY IN GOATS.

Why They May Replace Cows on Farms in Sullivan County, N. Y.

There will be no cows' milk shipped to New York city from Sullivan county, N. Y., after April 1 if a plan being considered seriously by farmers is carried out. On or before that date a demand for a flat rate of 4 cents a quart the year round will be made upon the New York milk dealers, and failure to receive such guarantee will result in the farmers selling their cows and replacing them with Angora goats.

Meetings were held every night recently during two weeks at the farm houses near Monticello, N. Y., where the milk question has been thoroughly thrashed out. John L. Polton, president of the Sullivan County Agricultural society, is most enthusiastic over the proposed plan. Goats will thrive in this mountainous country, though in many cases a farm of 100 acres would not pasture a small dairy of cows. C. B. Ward of De Bruce, Sullivan county, who has 2,000 Angora goats, is making more money now than he did with a herd of cows.

Brakeman Badly Mangled.

Great Falls, Mont., March 28.—Clifford W. Thomas, a Great Northern brakeman, was instantly killed here while making a flying switch near the freight depot. Nine cars and an engine passed over his body, which was crushed and mangled horribly.

Shoots His Wife and Himself.

Lincoln, Neb., March 28.—Frank L. Mercer, twenty-seven years old, a Union Pacific engineer of Laramie, Wyo., came to Lincoln, went to the home of his parents, where his divorced wife lived, and, after failing to effect a reconciliation with her, shot her through the head and then shot himself. Mrs. Mercer died and Mercer cannot recover.

No Egyptian Tobacco.

Egypt grows no tobacco. The best tobacco reaches Aden from Cavalla and is known as Basma.

LORD MOUNT STEPHEN.

Makes Generous Donation to Empire Building Scheme.

RESULTS TO BE IMPORTANT

Lord Mount Stephen's Scheme of Empire Building.

London, March 28.—Lord Mount Stephen's generous decision to allot a sum of about $300,000 for emigrating young children to Canada, and devote the income resulting to that purpose, is likely to have important results in empire building.

His lordship has selected Dr. Barnardo's Homes as the medium by which his scheme shall be put into execution, and it is his earnest desire to send the young emigrants at the earliest possible age at which they are fit, in order that they may grow up in a new country strengthened by the larger hope of sturdiness and independence.

Mr. Baker, the present head of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, explained that the income from Lord Mount Stephen's trust would amount to nearly $15,000 a year, and this would enable the homes to send out an additional 300 children annually. The whole of the income would be spent on emigration pure and simple, none of it going to establish charges, either in England or Canada.

ANOTHER CRISIS IN THE BALKANS

Said to Have Been Temporarily Averted.

Paris, March 28.—Another crisis in the Balkans has been averted, but perhaps only temporarily, according to well informed diplomatic circles here, where for months it has been an open secret that Bulgaria was determined to try conclusions with Turkey over the question of Macedonia, either to win the province outright, or, at least, to secure autonomy for the remainder of European Turkey.

Bulgaria for years has made sacrifices to equip and train the model army which she now possesses, always with the idea of the inevitable war with Turkey ahead of her. The Bulgarian people have gradually become imbued with the belief that their army is invincible and the acquisition of their own independence has left them dissatisfied that their Christian brothers in Macedonia should remain under the domination of Turkey.

They also realize that they cannot long sustain the burden of the army on its present footing. For the king also a successful war would mean the consolidation of the position of a dynasty imposed upon the Bulgarian people by the powers. For both the king and the people, therefore, it appears to be "now or never."

The moment, however, was singularly unpropitious, because Europe unanimously supports the regime of the Young Turks at Constantinople and desires to give it a fair chance to regenerate Turkey. The last hope of King Ferdinand and the Bulgarian government disappeared when the king visited St. Petersburg recently and found that Russia refused to give either sympathy or support to an appeal to arms at this time. Bulgaria has yielded, but, as understood here, only to see what diplomacy can do.

Forest Fires Under Control.

Pittsburg, March 28.—Forest fires, which have caused considerable damage in Western Pennsylvania, North and West Virginia and Eastern Ohio, practically are under control. Volunteer fighters turned out in great numbers and were assisted by a perfect calm. Losses are reported amounting to probably $100,000.

Body Found in Slough.

Butte, Mont., March 28.—Charles Bunde, aged twenty-four years, was robbed, murdered and his body hurled into a slough near Enaville, according to the theory of officers. Bunde had been missing for a week and his body was found in a slough, the pockets turned inside out.

MANN WILL BE ITS SPONSOR

Intends to Assume Charge of Railroad Bill.

TOWNSEND IS DISAPPOINTED

Ambition of Michigan Representative to Take Charge of the Administration Measure on the Floor of the House Will Not Be Gratified—Attitude of Mr. Mann Not Known.

Washington, March 28.—The ambition of Representative Townsend of Michigan to assume charge of the administration railroad bill on the floor of the house will not be granted, the honor going to Chairman Mann of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. This fact developed and supporters of the bill, in the form in which it was originally introduced by Representative Townsend and as it now is pending in the senate, are greatly disappointed.

It had been thought the intense opposition of Mr. Mann to certain features of the bill as drafted by Attorney General Wickersham would make him disinclined to champion it. His success in incorporating many of his own ideas into the measure, however, made Mr. Mann willing to assume the sponsorship. As amended by the committee all Republican members voted for it and there is no way in which the chairman could be denied the management of the measure on the floor.

Mr. Mann was particularly opposed to the provision for the creation of a court of commerce and this was retained only by the personal efforts of the president.

Mann's Attitude Unknown.

Whether Mr. Mann will seek to eliminate this provision on the floor is not known. He is said to be as strongly opposed to it as ever, but his objections are confined to his belief that the establishment of the new court involves unnecessary expense. In view of the fact that President Taft is so firmly in favor of the court it is not thought that Mr. Mann will make any move for its elimination from the bill.

The administration is looking to the senate to save the principal features of the original bill. Supporting the president in this matter are Senators Elkins, Aldrich, Keane, Crane, Cullom and Nixon of the committee on interstate commerce, as well as many other Republican leaders. Vigorous assaults upon the measure have been made by Senators Cummins and Clapp and it is known they will have the support of many others of the insurgent Republicans, as well as a large number of the Democratic senators. That the coalition of insurgent Republicans and Democrats is formidable is admitted by friends of the bill and they are now giving their attention to the formulation of amendments which they hope will harmonize some of the differences. Mr. Wickersham has met with the friends of the bill on several occasions and has given them his assistance in framing amendments.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Define Right of the Various Air Craft in France.

Paris, March 28.—Rules and regulations controlling the navigation of the air, designed to meet the new complex problems arising from the development of aviation, have been formulated by the Aero club of France and have been submitted to the French government as the basis for a national law. The code, elaborated after much study, aims to meet the rights and interests of all of the aeroplane and balloonist in flight and of man and man's property on the surface.

Following are some of the club's suggestions: Aerial craft, whether aeroplanes or dirigible balloons, must not circulate lower than 150 feet above private property. Navigation in fog is not allowed and the transportation of explosives, except hunting ammunition, is prohibited. The fixing of general aerial routes is recommended as a way of avoiding collisions, and aeroplanes and dirigible balloons should keep a certain distance from spherical balloons to the end that if explosions or other accidents happen to the dirigible machines the spherical may not be endangered.

For the protection of the aeronaut it is recommended that the proprietors of high buildings and other structures be required to illuminate their property at night at each level of 250 feet.

Lake Navigation Opens.

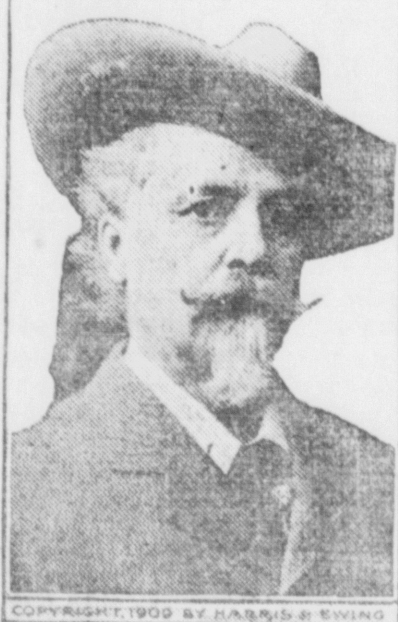

Duluth, March 28.—The steamer Moore, Captain Jacob Hector, opened the season of navigation on the north shore of Lake Superior, departing for Grand Portage with passengers and freight for Grand Portage and intermediate points.

Three Killed by Train.

Sellersville, Pa., March 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Alois Distel and their son Charles were killed when a Philadelphia and Reading railway train struck the carriage in which they were riding.

BUFFALO BILL.

Aged Plainsman Said to Have Rejoined His Wife.

REUNITES ESTRANGED PAIR

Grandson of Buffalo Bill Brings Husband and Wife Together.

North Platte, Neb., March 28.—Through the efforts of their grandson, Cody Boals, a reconciliation has been effected between Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and Mrs. Cody. Colonel and Mrs. Cody became estranged three or four years ago and since that time they have lived apart.

Cody Boals, attending the military academy at Kearney, came here to spend the Easter holiday with his grandmother. Unbeknown to other members of the family he wired his grandfather to join him and the latter accepted. He was met at the depot by young Boals, taken to the old ranch and Mrs. Cody was first to meet him. The meeting was of a character to show that love still held a place in the hearts of the old people. Colonel Cody will remain here for an indefinite period.

AWAITED WITH MUCH CURIOSITY

Coming to Washington of Congressman Foss.

Washington, March 28.—The coming to Washington of Eugene N. Foss is awaited with a great deal of curiosity both by Republicans and Democrats who have heard that the new congressman is a distinct oddity and a law unto himself. Mr. Foss is the man who overturned a Republican majority of 14,000 votes in the Fourteenth Massachusetts congressional district last week and won by 6,000, thereby giving to the Republican leaders the greatest scare they have had since Bryan first set the prairies of the West afire.

Mr. Foss has been gunning for a political office with great persistency and enthusiasm since 1902. He has aimed at a great many political jobs. This is the first one he has brought to earth. After running the gamut of Republican nominations, always with the same result, he switched his politics, and at the second trial got a job. This shows, as somebody remarked, that the Democrats appreciate a good Republican.

The new lawmaker is rich. They say he has $10,000,000 or so. Also that he doesn't mind spending it. He made the money fly in every campaign in which he was a candidate. Politics, by the way, is with Foss a diversion and recreation. His real business is managing big manufacturing plants and looking out for his heavy stock holdings.

"You must not think because Foss was elected as a Democrat he will vote with you fellows down here," said a Massachusetts man to Champ Clark the other day. "He is liable to vote with the Democrats one day and the Republicans the next. Organization means nothing to him. Neither does precedent. He will vote just as he feels, regardless of party caucuses and other mandates which most politicians regard as sacred."

ELECTRIC TRAINS COLLIDE

Two Men Killed and Another Fatally Injured.

Lima, O., March 28.—Two men were instantly killed, another fatally injured and a house burned as the result of a collision between two electric trains near here. Both trains were destroyed.

James Risk, baggage man, Lima, was electrocuted. An exploding fuse set the wreckage on fire, destroying an adjacent house.

St. Paul Man a Suicide.

St. Paul, March 28.—Frank Ryberg, fifty-five years old, a contracting carpenter, shot himself through the mouth with a revolver. He died instantly. He was a member of several lodges in St. Paul and well known among those engaged in building. Ryberg had been in a health for several years.

WILL CONTINUE INVESTIGATION

EXPOSITION IN CHINA.

American Products Will Be Shown at Nanking in May.

Preparations are going forward rapidly at Nanking, China, for the opening of the Nanyang exposition, or National Industrial exposition, as it is called. It is to be opened May 9 and to continue for six months.

Hsi-Chen Hwang, director of works for the exposition, may be quoted as saying that there are to be sixteen large buildings, most of which are well on toward completion. Most of them are in English and French styles of architecture.

The exposition grounds cover an area of about 150 acres and are laid out artistically with ponds, lawns, trees, flowers of every Chinese variety, pavilions and graveled walks leading to the several entrances. Display lighting with electricity will be a feature of the decoration of the grounds. Among the amusements will be a hippodrome, Chinese theater and other shows, both Chinese and foreign. Music will be furnished by the new army military band. A miniature railroad on the grounds will be one of the attractions.

The exposition grounds are reached directly from the railroad by the Nanking city lines. Chinese capitalists have furnished the funds for suitable foreign hotels near the grounds. There will be accommodations for 1,000 guests at these hotels. It is expected that there will be 10,000 to 15,000 visitors daily to the grounds. The total cost of the exposition is estimated at $700,000. Twenty-two provinces of China are to be represented in the exhibits, and 5,000 square feet each have been allotted to American, English, German and Japanese exhibits in the Chinese government building.

TO TRY NEW PENCIL WOODS.

Supply of Red Cedar Will Be Exhausted in Five Years.

With a view to replenishing the supply of woods adaptable to the manufacture of lead pencils the forest service at Washington has perfected plans for testing a number of the national forest woods in co-operation with several leading representatives of the pencil industry.

The department of agriculture recently held conferences with lead pencil manufacturers, and it was brought out, as stated at the forest bureau the other day, that the supply of red cedar, which furnished practically all the wood for the annual output for some 325,000,000 pencils, will be exhausted within five years.

In view of this situation a substitute must be found which has all the qualities of pencil wood and which grows in sufficient quantities to meet the manufacturers' demands. Among the woods in the national forests to be experimented with are rocky mountain red cedar, alligator juniper, western juniper, redwood, incense cedar, western cedar, Port Oxford cedar and Alaska cypress. The specimens collected will be sent to four leading manufacturers who have agreed to test them. They will keep a record of the tests and report to the forest service the results as well as their judgment as to the fitness of the individual woods.

Superintendent Hotchkiss Will Probe Deeper.

ONLY SCRATCHED SURFACE

Other Letters to Be Read and They Are More Interesting Than Any That Have Yet Been Produced. Books and Files of the Late George P. Sheldon Have Been a Gold Mine.

New York, March 28.—The fire insurance investigation into legislative scandals involving the expenditure of far greater sums than any named in the Alldredge bribery case will be continued here.

"I have only scratched the surface thus far," Superintendent Hotchkiss said when hearings were adjourned last Thursday. "There are other letters to be read and they are more interesting than any that have yet been produced."

Thus far the gold mine of evidence has been the letter files and books of the late George P. Sheldon, president of the Phoenix Fire Insurance company of Brooklyn. Sheldon for years was in charge of the legislative interests of the New York companies, and his correspondence with his Albany agent, William H. Buckley, was both voluminous and precise. Buckley's own opinion of his ability to smother legislation and to gain advance information of court decisions has been modest in his testimony, but in the letters to Sheldon he put a better estimate on the value of his services. It is expected that his memory will be still further refreshed if he is called again.

There also is a possibility that Justice Edward McCall of the state supreme court bench, a brother of the late John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance company, may volunteer to explain how his name came to be on the back of a $35,000 check issued by the Phoenix Fire Insurance company to Buckley's order. According to the exhibit, the justice signed Buckley's name, and his own under it, without indicating, however, that he had power of attorney.

QUANTITY OF LAVA SMALLER

But Scientist Fears Earthquake May Occur.

Catania, Sicily, March 28.—While the quantity of lava from the craters of Mount Etna continues to decrease, the internal activity of the volcano is stronger. Frank A. Perret, the American volcanologist, believes the decrease in the flow of lava is due to obstructions in the new craters, which prevent it flowing freely, and that later, either in a few days or perhaps in a week, the molten mass either will force a passage or an earthquake will result.

Mr. Perret went from Nicolosi to the Alpine club refuge, which is situated near the craters and later telegraphed down as follows:

"The activity of Etna is stronger, but the lava is slower. Terrific explosions in the interior of the mountain continue."

WILL BE FORMALLY JOINED

Issue Between British Commonality and Hereditary Aristocracy.

London, March 28.—Tuesday will be a fateful day for the British empire, for on that day Premier Asquith will present to the house of commons his plan for dealing with the house of lords, and the issue between the commonality and hereditary aristocracy of Great Britain will be formally joined, and sooner or later the question will be presented to the electorate for final adjudication.

Conjecture is focused on the course the lords will take in dealing with the government resolutions. Not more than eight days at most will be required to get the verdict of the commons, but the lords have it in their power to hang up the matter indefinitely by adjourning debate or delaying a vote.

BUD STEVENS ACQUITTED

Former Cowboy Found Not Guilty of Murder.

Aberdeen, S. D., March 28.—After a week's trial Bud Stevens, the former cowboy who shot and killed at Le Beau, S. D., on Dec. 11, 1909, Dode MacKenzie, son of Murdo MacKenzie of Trinidad, Colo., the cattle king of America, was found not guilty. The plea of self-defense was accepted by the jury, it being shown the shooting came after MacKenzie had quarrelled with him and returned, brandishing a gun, to the saloon where Stevens was bartender.

Success in clothes retailing now-a-days means that the clothier meets the exacting requirements of two classes of men. That we are successful is due to our recognition of this fact. In good clothes there must be age fitness as well as good fit. There must be the difference in age-style, with a perfect uniformity of quality—workmanship. This difference is happily expressed in

KEENE & McFADDEN

First National Bank Block

Brainerd, Minnesota

Again we find it necessary to revise our list, as pretty much of everything, especially on the "north side," has been sold, except "OUR HAPPY HOME." This we propose to keep, and expect to live and die in BRAINERD. In 1881 we cast our lot here in BRAINERD and, while we have seen many "ups and downs," we have never lost faith in BRAINERD and CROW WING COUNTY, and the prospects never looked brighter than it does at this time, and we still maintain that a DEED TO A HOME IN BRAINERD is worth more than a bushel of RENT RECEIPTS. If you want to buy city property, farm or mineral lands, see us, as we have a large list and many choice bargains. If you want to sell city property or lands, list with us. Our motto is "GIVE EVERY MAN A SQUARE DEAL."

WALTER JOHNSON ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Well Known Farmer Residing Near
Klondyke Killed by Gasoline Engine

WAS ALONE AT THE TIME

It is Thought that he Slipped and Fell into Engine While Greasing Belt

Walter Johnson an old and well known resident of Klondyke met his death Friday while grinding feed with a gasoline engine. Andrew Carlson, of Deerwood, went to Johnson's place to grind feed and was at work in the grinding room when the accident happened. Johnson went into the engine room and started the engine. Almost immediately the engine, a 16-horse power machine, stopped and Mr. Carlson heard a groan. He looked into the engine room and found Mr. Johnson partly under the engine with his head crushed. He was removed to the house and never recovered consciousness, dying two hours later. The indications were that he got up onto the base of the engine and reached over to grease the belt and slipped and fell, catching his head between the frame of the engine and the fly wheel.

The deceased was 41 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children. The funeral took place Sunday at the home with interment at Woodlawn cemetery, town of Klondyke. Mr. Johnson was well known in that part of the country and is very highly spoken of by all who knew him.

A sale of fine sample suits—"Michael's"

SUITS at big bargains right in the middle of the season—at just the time to wear them—most unusual it is—very unusual, but even at that there is only one way to get them and that is to come at once. They cannot last long. These are suits which were used in a sales room as samples and consequently are the best of garments—best in style, best tailoring and best fitting garments that can be purchased. The lot represents Navy, greens, brown, green mixed, blue mixed, light grey, Mulberry and black suits in sizes from 34 to 36 and of course every one is a spring of 1910 garment. Every garment is in splendid shape. You would never know but that they just came from the factory. See them, but see them at once if you want one.

These are the prices at which these suits will sell at

First, let us impress upon you that these prices apply to the sample suits only—not to our regular stock.

$25.00 Sample Suits will sell at but $18.75
$30.00 Sample Suits will sell at but $22.50

$32.50 Sample Suits will sell at but $24.35
$37.50 Sample Suits will sell at but $27.95

Remember that the number of these suits is limited and that those securing the benefit will be here early for them. When you see them you will pronounce them ridiculously cheap.

FESTIVITIES WILL FOLLOW EASTER

Bohemian Club and Hose Company
No. 2 Will Give Balls This Evening

TWO BALLS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Black Hawks and Molders Hosts that Night—N. P. L. A. Next Friday

There will be the usual round of festivities in social circles following lent in Brainerd. Tonight, Easter Monday, will be signalized by two of the leading social events of the season. At the handsome rooms in the Citizens State bank building the Bohemian club members will be hosts at one of the swiftest dancing parties of the year. The ball room and the banquet hall have been handsomely decorated in white and purple, Easter colors. Graham's orchestra will furnish the music for the evening.

At Gardner's hall Hose Company No. 2 will hold their annual ball. The fire ladders are grand entertainers and the event will without doubt be one of the swiftest of the many they have given.

On Friday night, April 1st., at the hall in the Citizens State bank building the Black Hawk club will give its annual masquerade ball. There is considerable friendly rivalry between the Bohemians and the Black Hawks as to which can give the most enjoyable entertainments and the Black Hawks will leave nothing undone to eclipse the affair of tonight.

The Iron Molders will give their annual ball on Friday evening at Gardner's hall and they will also give a large and elaborate affair.

The molders' balls are famed for its jollity and good fellowship, as well as the large attendance and there is no doubt that this one will be no exception to the rule.

Another annual event which always draws a good crowd is the entertainment and ball given by the Northern Pacific Library association. This will take place Friday evening, April 8th, and will be an event of much importance to the hundreds of employees of the railroad who are interested in the library maintained at the shops for the use of the men.

GIVE EXACT INFORMATION

Important that State and County
Should Get Full Credit in the Census for all Produced

The Agriculturist contains the following article that applies equally to Crow Wing county. Agricultural interests should not be neglected and the report should show that we are in the agricultural belt and fully up to other counties in producing quantities:

"When the census enumerators make their rounds next summer and inquire about crop yields, do not underestimate your yields with the idea that you are thereby dodging taxes. The census has nothing at all to do with taxes. Tax assessments are made by county assessors and the census enumerators are employed by the federal government and census statistics are not seen at all by assessors.

"On the other hand it is very much to the interest of farmers that their state and county should get full credit in the census for all that it produces. Minnesota is more fertile than many other localities. Let farmers of other states know the facts about Minnesota's crops and they will be induced to come and settle here.

"At present only 37 per cent of our tillable soil is under cultivation. Let us all help develop and settle the state and the result will be an increased value to all farms. There will be better roads, more and better schools and churches and everybody will be benefited. A man should do his part in making the state where he intends to live, the best state in the Union."

GUN CLUB WILL HOLD TOURNAMENT

Members of Riverside Gun Club Met
Sunday and Decided to Pull
One Off

THEY ELECTED OFFICERS ALSO

Members Are Very Enthusiastic and Expect Best Year in History of Club

The members of the Riverside Gun Club met Sunday afternoon at Walte Brothers' store and organized for the season. They decided to pull off a two days tournament at some date in July to be fixed later. There was a large and very enthusiastic meeting and the club members are confident that the season will be the best in the history of the club.

They also held the annual election of officers with the following result: President—J. R. Smith. Vice Pres.—W. H. Cleary. Sec. and Treas.—H. L. Paine. 1st. Asst. Sec.—W. H. Mantor. Field Captain—J. C. Davis. Asst. Field Captain—Dr. J. A. Thabes.

A Fine Entertainment

Miss Alice Ruth O'Connell assisted by the best local talent will give a fine program of dramatic reading and music in the Citizens State bank hall on Wednesday, March 30th. If you want to hear the best thing of the season come out. Tickets only 50 cents. On sale at Dunn's drug store and Ransford hotel.

LAKES ALMOST CLEAR

Nearly all the Lakes are Almost Free
From Ice—Will be Clear
April 1st

The ice went out of the lower end of Gull Lake Sunday and is reported to be badly broken up in Hubert. Clarke Lake is also free from ice. Hubert last year broke up the 13th day of May. The break up this year is fully six weeks earlier than usual. As there is no snow in the woods and as nearly all the lakes north of here are either broken up or showing signs of breaking up, there is little reason to anticipate much more winter weather.

GUARD CAPITAL, HILL'S ADVICE

The Nation's Great Need, Says
Railroad Magnate.

SCORES OUR WASTEFULNESS.

Declares We Live In an Age of Financial Delirium—Blames Extravagance For High Prices and Urges Economy. Every Dollar Unprofitably Spent Marks a Crime Against Posterity.

James J. Hill, the venerable railroad builder and magnate, who delivered an address at the Minnesota conservation convention in St. Paul the other day in which he advocated the conservation of capital, condemned extravagance as one of the causes of the increase in prices and told how the situation described by him might be remedied. Mr. Hill declared that "we are living in an age of worldwide financial delirium" and that "next after the conservation of the land, its area, use and fertility must come the conservation of national capital in the form of cash and credit." Mr. Hill said in part: "In our cities modern extravagance finds its most untrammeled expression. The total debt of the states, including all minor civil divisions, increased $12,921,443, or 1.25 per cent, between 1880 and 1890. Between 1890 and 1902 it increased $727,778,893, or 64 per cent. "Debt figures, however, do not begin to tell the story of our national extravagance. Only a small part of our expenditure is represented by debt tables. The rest is raised by increased taxation.

How National Expenses Have Grown. "Although the great business expansion of this country began right after the civil war, the expenses for 1890 were but $4,000,000 greater than those of twenty years before. Since 1890 these expenditures have grown $20,000,000 a year, until now they are $21.4 per cent more than they were eighteen years ago. The answer to the charge of a billion dollar session of congress is that this has become a billion dollar country. The apology is neither relevant nor true. It is not necessary that expense should increase in the same ratio as growth.

"The following little table, exhibiting the whole situation, might be printed at the top of every letterhead used by any man in public office anywhere in the United States:

INCREASES.	Per cent.
Wealth, 1870-90	116
Foreign trade, 1870-90	59
Value manufactured products, 1870-90	121
Net ordinary expenditures United States government, 1870-90	1.4
Expenditures 30 states, 1870-1900	233.6
Wealth, 1890-01	33.4
Foreign trade, 1890-01	35.4
Value manufactured products, 1890-01	35.4
Net ordinary expenditures United States government, 1890-01	121.4

"The phenomenal increase of public expenditure has already produced a plentiful crop of public ills. It is one of the causes of the increases in prices now disturbing the people. This increase follows in a suggestive way the inflation of national and local budgets. The average cost of the supplies that must be bought for practically every household increased about 50 per cent between 1896 and 1900. During the past year there has been a marked lifting of the price level. Foodstuffs cost from 10 to 70 per cent more than ten years ago.

"Something is due to enormous currency inflation. The tariff is another contributing cause. Combinations which are actually in restraint of trade, which have monopolized their field and are either controlled by a common secret management or a secret agreement to maintain exorbitant charges, are partly responsible.

Extravagance National Trait. "Still more of the rise of prices is due to the decline of agricultural products as compared with the increase of population. Yet with due allowance for the effect of these forces that make for dearer living there still remains a large unexplained balance which must be credited to the lavish expenditure which has now grown to be a national trait.

"Waste, idleness and rising wages, all interrelated to one another, now as cause and now as effect, are, next to an overissue of irredeemable paper, the three most powerful forces in the world to raise prices.

Remedy Not Obscure. "Perhaps the greatest factor of all in the price problem is the wage rate. Everybody knows that labor cost is the principal item in all forms of industry. The wage rate has been rising steadily in this country. Powerful forces are back of this movement. It has public sympathy. To resist is difficult and may be dangerous. As cost of production is chiefly labor cost, the price of the finished article must go up if the price of labor is raised. This is just as true of the farm as of the factory.

"The saving feature of our situation is that it is not complex and that the remedy is not obscure. Let the rule be that every dollar unprofitably spent marks a crime against posterity just as much as does the dissipation of material resources. Expenditures must be cut down all along the line."

BIRDS OF PARADISE. Their Dancing Parties and Arrows With Blunt Heads.

Birds of paradise molt about January, and in May, when they are in full and gorgeous new plumage, the males assemble each morning for their dancing parties. Certain trees are selected, being chosen on account of widespread branches and scattered leaves, and in one of these trees from a dozen to twenty of the birds will assemble. They raise their wings, stretch out their necks and elevate their exquisite plumes, keeping them in a continual vibration. The birds hop or fly from branch to branch apparently in the greatest excitement, so that the tree appears to be seething with golden orange plumes. The long, plummy tufts which are the pride of the bird of paradise spring from the sides beneath each wing, and when the bird is in repose they are partly concealed, but during the "dance" the wings are raised vertically across the back, the head is bent and stretched out, and the long plumes are expanded until they resemble two magnificent golden fans, striped with deep red at the base and fading off into a pale brown tint at the finely divided points.

It is hard to determine just what is the motive of the dance of the birds of paradise, but the natives take advantage of the occasion to secure specimens of the birds without injury to the feathers. As soon as it is found that the birds have fixed upon a particular tree for their dances a native builds a little hut or blind of palm branches among the leaves and here ensconces himself just before daylight armed with a bow and a number of arrows with a round knob upon the end, instead of a sharp point. A boy waits at the foot of the tree, and when the birds have assembled and begun their dance the hunter begins to shoot. The blow of the blunt arrow stuns a bird, which falls to the ground and is secured by the waiting boy, not a drop of its blood being shed and the plumage being uninjured. The other birds rarely take any notice of those that fall until their number has been considerably reduced.—Harper's Weekly.

THOMAS F. WALSH, THE MINING KING.

Life Story of the Man Who Took Many Millions Out of a Rocky Mountain Peak In Colorado

By WALTON WILLIAMS.
THOMAS F. WALSH, the multimillionaire mine owner and mining engineer of Colorado, who recently returned to his home in Washington from San Antonio, Tex., where he went for his health, became interested in mining schemes soon after his emigration to the United States and amassed a fortune with his own hands which has been estimated at from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000.

The story of Mr. Walsh's life is another of those "Arabian Nights" tales which is on record and true. He was born in Tipperary county, Ireland, was educated in the public schools, reached Worcester, Mass., as a millwright at the age of nineteen, tried his hand at sewer contracts and made money, went to the Black Hills after Custer's gold report in 1873, made $100,000 there and hastened to Leadville when the discovery of carbonate silver created a panic of joy through the west.

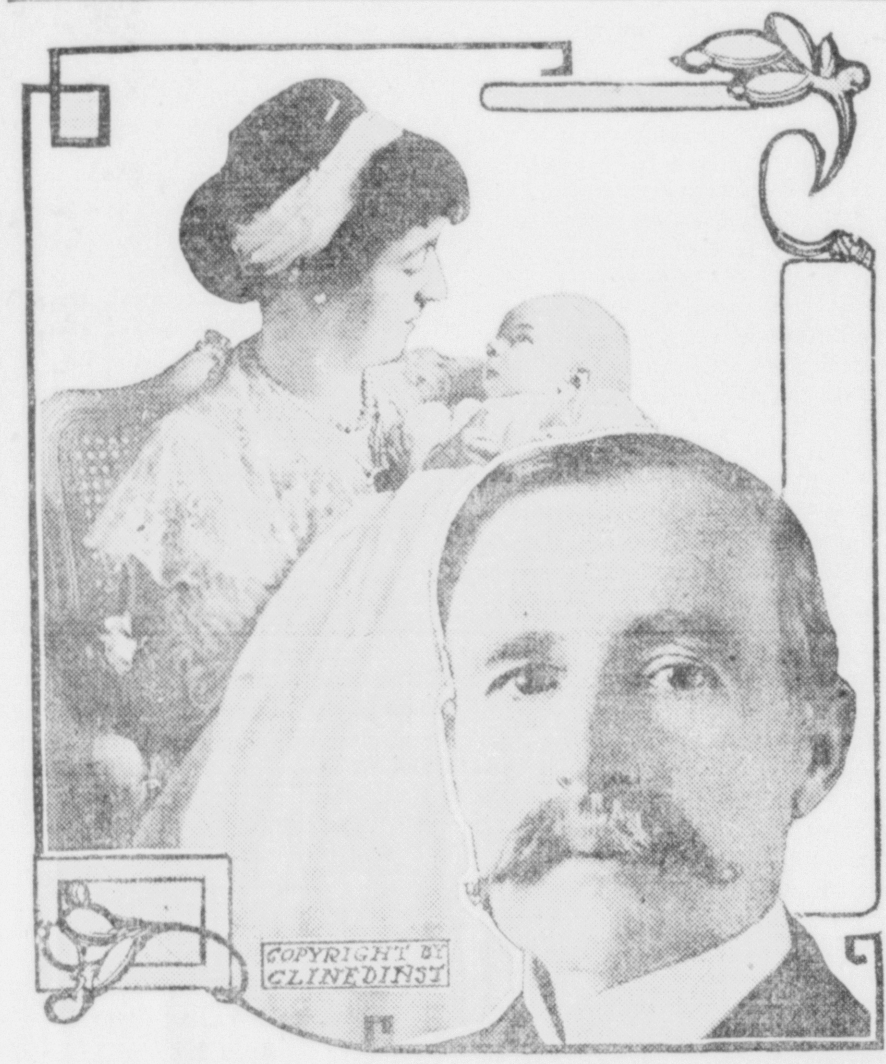

While at Deadwood and other places in the Black Hills, Mr. Walsh began the practice of grubstaking miners, which led to his fortune. When a prospector ran out of provisions he gave him the necessary supplies, taking a share of the mines for his pay. In this way he was almost sure to find himself part owner of new and then a valuable property at the end of the season.

Reaching Leadville with considerable ready money, he opened the Grand Central hotel. It proved a bonanza and enabled him to get control of good mines. In a few years he was rich and happy. He had invested gave a $10,000 dinner with distinguished men as his guests. His wines could not be surpassed. The music was furnished by artists from the grand opera. After this extraordinary feast, at which Americans were entertained in a manner unheard of, Mr. Walsh, with his family and friends, chartered a train of five palace cars, luxuriously fitted up with the silks and decorations used on the steamer for the banquet, and began a tour of France and Belgium. The late King Leopold of Belgium met Mr. Walsh at the Hotel Ritz, at which the czar's band played and the great singers of Paris were heard. In the course of this entertainment the conversation turned to finance. The king said he was making only about 3 per cent on his investments. Mr. Walsh in an easy, graceful manner said he was always sure of 10 per cent on his investments. From 100 to 200 per cent was more accurate. He probably did not want to paralyze the king at one sitting and so put his profits at 10 per cent.

King Leopold was the generous monarch who encouraged Stanley to extend his discoveries on the Congo. The result was a lot of Belgium colonies and investments in that country, the king having much at stake. It was his mines down there that he was anxious to have Mr. Walsh investigate and develop in good American style. While Mr. Walsh did not go there himself, he entered into a business arrangement with the king and sent trusted experts to "size up" the mines and their value. So it was that a European monarch became a side partner of the Colorado millionaire.

In important properties and become an authority on mining and particularly on the new ores being discovered from time to time.

Master Stroke of His Ventures. Then came his master stroke in mining ventures. Going outside the Leadville district to the lofty mountain region of San Juan, where the canyons are stupendous, the peaks of Alpine proportions and avalanches working havoc with mines every year, he made the town of Ouray, nestled in the heart of the Rockies, his headquarters for the San Juan district.

Seeing some ores from mines at an altitude of 12,000 feet, he was greatly impressed with their richness. Experts warned him that practical mining could not be done on the mountain tops; that already fortunes had been squandered on similar projects, and, besides, avalanches, or snowslides, as they are called there, would eventually sweep away houses and machinery and fill up shafts and mines.

So much snow was then massed over the old mines that it was a year or two in melting. Finally he got into the mines and was shown where the richest samples came from, but he insisted on looking around for himself, and in a discarded portion of a mine he saw on the neighboring wall evidences of rich ore which the experts declared worthless. He was struck with its peculiar appearance—dark spots and markings on white rock.

Selecting samples, he had them assayed and found a bonanza in prospect. He bought adjoining properties and kept his men busy prospecting and buying until he had a large mining territory absolutely his own.

For years it had been his ambition to be the only owner of a group of mines. Now he was master of the situation. He ordered expensive machinery on a large scale, erected smelters for reducing ores and proceeded systematically to develop his mines. Such was the beginning of Camp Bird mine, which paid Mr. Walsh $1,000,000 a year in profits for many years and was sold some years ago to an English syndicate for nearly $10,000,000.

After Wealth Came Fame.

Mr. Walsh became a famous man of the world in this way: He was appointed commissioner from Colorado to the Paris exposition in 1889. There he began a series of entertainments that were the talk of Europe. He chartered a steamboat on the river Seine, turned it into a floating palace and

It may interest men who work to hear that before he began entertaining royalty Mr. Walsh was an appreciative and generous employer. He built a big hotel for his miners and superintendents, gave them luxury with first class meals, good sleeping rooms with porcelain lined baths and everything up to date as you would find it in a hotel and not a mining camp. It was all a gift, so to speak, to the miners, costing them no more than at a mining camp boarding house, where the pies kill at forty rods and the prunes and coffee would strangle a dog.

His Generosity to a Waiter.

In 1900 Mr. Walsh earned some fame in the east by making a traveling companion of a waiter in the cafe of the Fifth Avenue hotel, in New York city. Mr. Walsh always stopped there and always sat at a certain table. The waiter pleased him, and one day he told the humble servant to throw off his apron and dickey and go with him to Europe. The waiter obeyed with bewildering alacrity, and for several weeks he and the wealthy Mr. Walsh traveled about Europe, seeing everything and having the best.

Mrs. Edward B. McLean, Mr. Walsh's daughter, who was with her father in San Antonio, is the mother of the baby who has been called "the $100,000,000 baby," as he is the heir to the fortunes of two very wealthy grandfathers—Thomas F. Walsh and John R. McLean.

Card Playing Dog.

Described as "a dog with a human brain," an intelligent performing terrier is exhibited on the variety stage in London. Several cards, each bearing a number, are placed on the floor, and the dog is asked to add up three given figures. It picks out the card representing the total with very little hesitation. Then it is shown a number of coins selected at random, and it correctly totals up the amount. In the same way it tells the number of a banknote and the time of day. Finally it takes part in a game of cards, picking up each card from the floor as required.

How Bamboos Bloom.

Bamboo plants are said to have the peculiarity of blooming at exactly the same time, whether in Europe or Africa, the difference in climate and surroundings seeming to make no change in the plants bursting into flower. They blossom rarely, but as they die immediately afterward this cannot be deplored. The plant is said to be exquisitely graceful and is easily cultivated.

DYNAMITE AND ICE.

A Strenuous Day in the Arctic With Peary on the Roosevelt.

I think that none of the members of the Peary expedition will ever forget the 30th of August. The Roosevelt was kicked about the floes as if she had been a football. The game began about 4 o'clock in the morning. I was in my cabin trying to get a little sleep with my clothes on, for I had not dared to remove them for a week. My rest was cut short by a shock so violent that before I realized that anything had happened I found myself on deck—a deck that inclined to starboard some 12 to 15 degrees. I ran, or, rather, climbed, the deck to the port side and saw what had happened. A big floe rushing past with the current had picked up the grounded berg to which we were attached by the hawsers and dashed it against the Roosevelt and cleared along her port side as if that thousand ton berg had been a toy. The berg brought up against another one just aft of us, and the Roosevelt slipped from between the two like a greased pig.

As soon as the pressure was relaxed and the ship regained an even keel we discovered that the cable which had been attached to the floe berg at the stern had become entangled with the propeller. It was a time for lightning thought and action, but by attaching a heavier cable to the parted one and taking a hitch around the steam capstan we finally disentangled it.

This excitement was no sooner over than a great berg that was passing near us split in two of its own accord, a cube of some twenty-five or thirty feet just missing our quarter by only a foot or two. "Bergs to the right of them, bergs to the left of them, bergs on top of them," I heard somebody say as we caught our breath at this miraculous escape. The ship was now quite at the mercy of the drifting ice, and with the pressure from the outer pack the Roosevelt again careened to starboard. I knew that if she were driven any higher on to the shore we would have to discharge a large part of the coal in order to lighten her sufficiently to get her off again, so I decided to dynamite the ice.

I told Bartlett to get out his batteries and dynamite and to smash the ice between the Roosevelt and the heavy floes outside, making a soft cushion for the ship to rest on. The batteries were brought up from the lazaret, one of the dynamite boxes lifted out with caution, and Bartlett and I looked for the best places in the ice for the charges. Several sticks of dynamite were wrapped in pieces of old burlap and fastened on the end of long spruce poles, which we had brought along specially for this purpose. A wire from the battery had, of course, been connected with one of the primers buried in the dynamite. Pole, wire and dynamite were thrust down through a crack in the ice at several places in the adjacent floe. The other end of each wire was then connected with the battery, every one got away to a respectful distance on the far side of the deck, and a quick, sharp push on the plunger of the battery sent the electric current along the wires.

Kip! Bang! Boom! The ship shook like a dish of jelly, and a column of water and pieces of ice went flying a hundred feet into the air, geyser fashion. The pressure of the ice against the ship being thus removed, she righted herself and lay quietly on her cushion of crushed ice, waiting for whatever might happen next.—Commander R. E. Peary in Hampton's Magazine.

STOPS ALL SUCH SUFFERING

Out-of-Order Stomachs Feel Fine

Five Minutes After Taking

a Little Diapiesin

As there is often someone in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion in some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pepee's Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach, with the common every-day cures advertised, that they have made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefies in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poisons the breath with nauseous odor.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery to the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pepee's Diapiesin.
